1. Comment. Possible troop trains.

2. Comment. Omitting the possible troop trains, the number of cars loaded during the period of observation amounts to 3,639, or about 300 cars less than in the preceding month. The fact that, during the period covered by the present report, 14 railroad stations more than in the previous report were covered indicates that, actually, the decrease must have been higher than 300 carloads. The decrease was especially conspicuous in Frankfurt/Oder. A decrease in the supply from the U.S.S.R. in November 1952 as compared with the preceding month coincided with the above observations. A percentage of the loadings observed in Frankfurt/Oder are believed to have been shipments from the U.S.S.R. 25X1

4. [redacted] Comment. These trains are connected with the personnel exchange observed in the fall of 1952.

5. [redacted] Comment. On 24 October 1952, elements of the two engineer regiments of the GOFG stationed in Magdeburg and Bernburg were transferred to Bad Saarow, presumably for field exercises or a course of instruction. [redacted] The present report tends to indicate that these units returned to their posts on 24 November after a four-week stay at Bad Saarow. 25X1 25X1

6. [redacted] Comment. The goods were probably for the airfields under enlargement in the two towns. The name is unknown. 25X1

7. [redacted] Comment. The kind of goods and traffic connections of the Office of one Volkov in Cottbus indicate that the office is identical with the ration supply depot of the bomber corps of the Twenty-Fourth Air Army. 25X1

8. [redacted] Comment. The officers were known as supply officers. 25X1

9. [redacted] Comment. The cargo and traffic connections of office Anikayev (rnu) tend to indicate that the office is identical with the ration supply depot [redacted] of the Twenty-Fourth Air Army in Jueterbog.

10. [redacted] Comment. The concrete slabs are for the construction of splinter-proof boxes for aircraft at airfields. Goerden is the feeder station for Brandenburg-Driest airfield. 25X1

11. [redacted] Comment. [redacted] The dispatching and receiving stations tend to indicate that the dispatching office is an air force unit. 25X1
